

7.2 Best Practices 2018-19

Best Practice 1: Building intense volume among women

This program is aimed to encourage women in their skill development, confidence and creating awareness on the societal issues.

Objectives of the practice

- The Objective is to empower women.
- Educate on Societal issues such as Violence against women.
- Awareness on the importance of education and self-standing.
- Enhance skill development and entrepreneurship qualities.
- To educate on the gender equity and concerned legal issues.
- Self defence
- Awareness on health issues

The context

In many societies including India, gender inequality was part and parcel of an accepted male dominated culture. Atrocities and discrimination are the two major problems present day society. This a program aimed at changing the nature and empowers women as nation builders. Capacity building emerges as a result of cultural, economic and other changes, such as the availability of new technologies in their lives (e.g. mobile phones and satellite television). Awareness on the current opportunities, constraints and developments in the medicine. The program aims in educating women by conducting gender equity programs.

The practice

The institution organizes many gender equity programs to create confidence among the girl students and help them to become a confident and self standing citizen. Seminars are conducted addressing the health issues, violence against women and legal issues. Safety and security of the girl student is given a high priority. College takes special attention to stop certain issues such as eve teasing and ragging. Counselling is given to all the students to understand the problems. College promotes girl protection activities such as self-defence to protect themselves against miscreants. Capacity building among women program plays an important role in empowering women in respect of career and confidence building.

Impact of the practice

- Increase in the number of girl students admissions.
- Increase in placements of girl students.
- Increase in number of girl students going for higher education.
- Increase in participation in NCC and NSS programs.

Problems encountered and resources required

Girl students were not encouraged for higher education, industrial visits, tours and internships by the parents. The parents of the students are motivated by educating them on the importance of financial independence and problems due to early marriage and financial dependence. To implement this practice it is essential to have good campus and good security so that safety of the girl student can be ensured. Regular student counseling system should be implemented to understand the problems encountered by the students. Frequent lectures on empowerment of women should be conducted to develop confidence among the girl students. The location of the college should be in such a way it has proper conveyance.

BEST PRACTICE 2:Extension Services

Extension Service enables the students to become more benevolent and active. Their exposure to the villages adopted is of great importance. They plunge willingly into their duty to serve the people. They create awareness among those who dwell in the villages, through their live enactment. Their selfless service has reached all the corners of the villages, which in turn had led the people to understand the importance of education, life and its value. They extend their community service in the adopted villages.

Objectives of the practice

- To liberate the weaker sections of the rural areas from the shackles of the perennial, economic, social, political and educational constraints.
- To provide social dimension to the educational system of the college and inculcate social responsibility and commitment in students.
- To bring forth the team spirit and leadership qualities of the students and broaden their social outlook that will help them work for the welfare of the community.

To restore gender equity, provide equal opportunities and take up new ventures plans to promote their welfare and live a dignified life like the privileged class of the society.

The Practice

This is an Extension programme offered to all UG students of all Semesters. The students launch on the development of the villages through 70 contact hours. The students are trained to undertake the beneficial social service in three phases.

- Conducting a meticulous survey of the villages to record the particulars of the residents and the available resources.
- Analysing the collected details to draft viable plans.
- Executing the action plans and evaluating them to assess the outcome to ensure the fulfilment of the target.

Evidence of Success

The services in the form of awareness programmes, vocational training programmes, demonstration and education training programmes have instilled confidence in the target groups who have evinced great interest in improving their standard of life.
